

MORNING APPEAL.

Friday, September 24 1886

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The main question for the Convention to settle today is the gubernatorial nomination. It is a time when personal friendships should be thrown aside for the good of the party, for the head of the ticket must needs be an undisputed strong man.

T. B. Kiekey has made a strong rustle for the nomination, and claims the ability to split the cattle vote. Ex-Governor Kinkaid will be backed by the Humboldt delegation, and his past record as an administrative officer is of the best. C. C. Stevenson, of Storey, is looked upon by many as a good candidate. Hank Davis is a young man of unimpeachable record, and makes a good impression. Nichols, of Lander, has come to the front very strong of late.

Out of this list the Convention ought to be able to bring a strong man to the front.

SILVER COINAGE.

The anti-silverpress have adopted a new method of approach to the proposition that the coinage of silver by the United States Mints shall be suspended. Almost daily it is announced in the Associated Press dispatches that some leading metropolitan newspaper of the East, heretofore strongly opposed to silver, has come out in favor of bi-metalism, and then follows a long extract from the article in which the paper mentioned declares itself. But the point to the article is always a proposition that coinage of silver in the United States be temporarily suspended in order to drive Great Britain from monometallic bi-metalism. Should the dragged into such a proceeding it will take years of work to secure resumption of coinage of silver, and all that has so far been gained for the cause of bi-metalism will be lost. As to forcing England into bi-metalism—that will be soon accomplished by the United States consistently following her own policy. No Government was ever forced into the adoption of a contrary policy by its previous abandonment by another, nor will England be in this matter. The solution of the silver problem so far as their own people are concerned rests with the United States. This country should have a policy of its own in financial affairs as well as in other economic matters and should follow it to the end just as it has done on the tariff. A high tariff has made America rich in opposition to the most strenuous opposition Englishmen and their adherents in America, and free silver will add to those riches in opposition to all England can do. The proposition to force England into bi-metalism by its abandonment by the United States is just as sensible and practicable as would be a proposition to force her into a high tariff policy by the abandonment of that policy here.

Never Send a Newspaper Chap.

A good natured newspaper chap was at a rustic picnic and rashly spoke to a young lady without the formality of an introduction. He happened to see a great fat caterpillar crawling on her lace collar, and jumping towards her said:

"Madam permit me to—"
But the young lady waved him off with an imperious and insulting gesture and said: "How dare you speak to me without an introduction. You are certainly no gentleman, sir!"

Here the caterpillar overbalanced itself and fell down her neck.

"Yough! Oh! Help! Take it off. Oh please do take it off somebody!" screamed the fair one. The newspaper man was the only "somebody" around and he said: "I couldn't think of it, madam; I haven't been introduced to the caterpillar."—Chicago Tribune.

Afraid of a Hard Winter.

In consequence of the long drouth grass is short in Montana and stockmen fear that the coming winter will play havoc with their herds. One of them, Dan Flowerree, has made a standing offer of $250,000, which is about one fourth the value of his stock, to any one who will insure his range cattle this winter and make good all losses.
